Frank Jude Carollo Jr

DEC 18, 1993 - DEC 17, 2017

Lovingly known as Frankie, 23, of Saratoga Springs, New York, passed away on December 17, 2017 in Delray Beach, Florida; son of Frank Jude Carollo and Tammy Marie Carollo, and brother to younger sister Elizabeth Carollo and older brother Anthony Carollo.

Frankie was a free spirit, full of life and love for those around him. He had a big warm smile that could light up an entire room and a laugh that was too contagious to ignore. He was outgoing and had a great sense of humor. He was passionate about many things — working out; getting tattoos that mapped out his journey through life so that he would never forget the people he met and the bonds he created that were precious to him; and living each and every day with great spirit and perseverance, leaving behind no regrets. He enjoyed the spring and fall seasons, as well as winter, but only for fun. His passions included skiing, working on cars and anything that could go fast. Music was something he cherished, living every day to a beat he could enjoy. He had a lot of heart, a lot of style, and so much charm. Our Baby Frankie grew up into a man who was loved as a son, grandson, brother, nephew, cousin and friend. His hugs, laughter and inner light will be missed dearly.

Missing you is nothing new we do it everyday, its the thought of never seeing you that rips my heart away. I miss our talks, our walks, your huge hugs and your beautiful Hollywood smile. You always knew how to make me laugh make me mad as hell and get under my skin but underneath it all you had a heart of gold. I pray for you my son that one day we will all see each other again and I ask you to please watch over your family and friends. You are missed beyond words and loved beyond measures and as long as breathe I will keep your memory alive. Rest in peace sweetheart until we meet again. Love your Ma

I didn't know Frank and I didn't know any of you. I saw his Mom crying her eyes out today when I was leaving one of the mausoleums at the Funeral Home because it was exactly 7 months today since I laid down to rest my husband Jeremy Viebrooks. Your tragedy broke my heart and I could not restrain myself from coming up to mom and grandmother and giving them a big hug. I know what you are going through simply because I am still going through the same nightmare and I still feel the same sharp pain that I felt on day one. I have simply learnt to anticipate another wave and get better prepared for it. I had a chance to talk to you a little bit and get a tiny glimpse of what an amazing person Frank was. I told you that in the days ahead you can expect peace and comfort to come from complete strangers. After all you never know who God is going to send your way to wipe your tears. I also shared with you the song that I laid down my husband to. It was "If I Die Young" by the Band Perry <https://m.youtube.com/watch?v=7NJqUN9TCIM> with the amazing lyrics describing the pain families have to go through when someone passes away at a very young age. No words will be able to alleviate your pain and I simply don't know them. I pray to God that He gives you strength to go through tomorrow and the days ahead. At the same time, I will make one suggestion that will bring the entire family together and help it process the enormous pain of its loss. Find a project that will best help honor Frank's memory. Among the many things I did was donating the tile tools to the local company Jeff Industries that provides training to people with mental and emotional conditions. They were so grateful that they started Jeremy Paul Viebrooks tile training program. I have also designed the photo album and a web site with a blog. I will start a clothing line named after him. Thanks about what passion Frank had and how you can honor his memory through that passion? If you have an answer to that, it will bring the entire family closer together in love and eventually give you peace and comfort. If you need to talk to someone who has gone through the same pain only a little earlier, call me any time of day or night at 202-361-2643. God bless you all and may He wipe away your tears tomorrow. Stay strong by supporting each other. Vlad.
