Sincere condolences from our family to yours during this sorrowful time. Ross' presence at Pathways will be missed for sure. I always loved that Pathways had their very own sheriff especially one that was so kind and had a beautiful smile all the time!

My condolences to the Martin Family. Having been neighbors with the Martins for nearly 23 years Ross was a big part of our every day life. I'll never forget the first time I met Ross, we were moving in with boxes in hand, my daughter and wife were in the house and several boys rode by on there bikes and started shooting BB's at the house and of course I chased them by foot but by the time I returned home the police had caught the boys, and Ross was in front of my house in his security uniform. Two things happened that day. Ross learned that I had a temper and spoke French. He looked at me like I was crazy and secondly I learned that he cares greatly about my family and the community because for the next couple weeks he watch my house like a hawk. Not only will my family miss Ross but the Sea Pines Community will miss him as well. God Bless Kevin, Katherine and Kaitlyn Sisson.

My Condolences to Bill and Family. I remember meeting Ross and his Dad at the State Special Olympics around 2006. It was so nice hanging with you guys. Years later Eric was able to join the PATHWAYS Gang where Ross was the Sheriff. I know that he, Eric and Bobby are enjoying the FREEDOM of Heaven. Running, Jumping and being FREE. Be BLESSED. Sincerely Jackie Moore

Our thoughts and prayers go out to the Martin Family on behalf of the Special Olympics Palm Beach County "Family". We will deeply miss our friend Ross and seeing his smiling face out at the events. We will always remember Ross at the bowling alley working with his Dad adjusting the ramp and throwing strikes on the lanes or on the track watching him going around the cones during the w/c slalom or making the turns on the obstacle course. Some fond memories that we will hold with us forever. Ross touched the lives of so many of us over the years. Friend, you will be missed! Love, Rich, Ryan, Dan & Lisa Special Olympics Staff

To the Martin Family, I'm sorry for your loss, If you ever need me I'm there for you. Ross was very funny, even at the times he was being a pain in the butt. I will miss his friendship, his jokes, and his generosity. I remember a time when I had no money for my transportation and Ross paid for me..... Joseph Roye

Ross Martin was truly one of the most generous people I have ever known. If he heard someone across the room say "I forgot my lunch", Ross would immediately offer to buy that person a meal, or share some of his food. Even when he won money on a lottery ticket, he wanted none for himself and gave every penny to his favorite charity. His laugh and smile were contagious. I could talk to him for hours about his passion for how the branches of our federal government worked. He was full of facts about how many served in the Congress, the Senate, and their roles in the legislative branch. He was an expert on the Bill of Rights and loved to talk to me about the meaning of those very special amendments to our Constitution. His passion for food was another favorite topic of discussion; he enjoyed certain cooking shows, and had a special place in his heart for Ina Garten, The Barefoot Contessa. The Special Olympics, Bowling, spending time with his family, his involvement with all his friends at Pathways to Independence and his very special relationship with the law enforcement community were the things he enjoyed most when spending time outside of his home. I can smile and laugh aloud when replaying the 20 something years of memories of Ross that I hold close to my heart. His friendship and love have been wonderful gifts. I miss him dearly Jeanne

My Uncle Ross is the first playmate I can remember having. We wheeled around together, ate cereal together, watched tv together. I spent every Halloween with him until I became a young lady! When I tell people about my Uncle and his life people usually respond with how lucky he is to have all of us, especially my Papa and Nana. They go on to say what a major responsibility it is to have some with special needs. And these are the nice normal things people say. However, it's the other way around. We were the lucky ones! Ross as a person was full of life, protection, humor, and it was a joy to have him in our lives. He taught me so many things that many people don't learn as I did at a young age. He taught me what it is to love unconditionally. And to not see people differently because of special needs or anything of the like. He taught me to be grateful for the hand I was dealt. He taught me to lend a hand to others in need and to laugh. He loved to laugh. Joking was a normal thing in the Martin household! My Uncle Ross was like Superman to me. He fought odds and he prevailed. He did everything with smiling eyes. I'm sad he is gone and we won't see these smiling eyes. But I know that Uncle Ross has bigger better things to do with God. So with this I want to say thank you, Uncle Ross. Because without you in my life I'm unsure of what kind of person I would be today. Thank you for teaching me so many things. And thank you for your Love. I will miss you. I Love You.

Ross Martin was my best friend! We were roommates for many, many years. He was like a Brother to me. We would tease each other, argue, and laugh together, like all brothers do. He knew everything about me. We both loved bowling. Ross and his dad made it possible for me to be able to go bowling. I loved Ross very much and I will miss him always..... Byron

I have so many memories with my brother it's hard to pick just one. Any time spent with Ross was special. There was lots of love and laughter. Ross had a great sense of humor and an infectious smile. Even his eyes would smile and that would just fill my heart ❤️. I love you Ross and will miss you dearly...Sister.

Our son Ross was indeed a blessing to us. He was an inspiration to anyone who ever met him. When you saw the way he handled his challenges and always kept his positive outlooks on life, gave us the strength to get through our challenges. We love you Ross and will never forget the gifts you gave us of patience and understanding Mom and Dad
