I have a newer Sony Vaio with a formatted hard drive, so its empty. I'm trying to install a new operating system and I'm not new to this. So this is what happens; I have Ubuntu 11.04 32bit on a CD and flash drive, Windows 7 on a CD, and Vista on a CD. The computer boots, sees the .iso, begins the install, somewhere usually at the end of the install it will say file not found for Ubuntu or problem with install for the windows CD. I've tried to install all of these at least twice with no luck. Ubuntu is usually the fastest and easiest but it doesn't even work. I know there is nothing wrong with the CD drive because the flash drive version does exactly the same thing. Ive never had an issue with a hard drive but I'm having a feeling thats the problem. Ive tried everything I can think of other than replacing the HDD. And I have another one of those on the way... Any help would be great. Thanks! I'm making a video on Windows Live Movie Maker, and i'm kinda stumped. It's a pretty simple video. I have a little part of a song in the beginning credits, and then it fades into the video I made. The song part worked perfect, and I wanted to speed up my video a bit. I set the speed on 2x. That works, but now I can't hear my video. I made sure my video volume was working, and its all balanced out with the song. So how can i speed the video and still hear it? Thankyou. Earlier it got really hot which I heard can be a reason why the charger stops working but that was an hour ago and it's fine now. About ten minutes ago the light went on, then off, the flickered for a minute and stopped. I have tried shutting down my laptop but that didn't work. Also I've tried moving the plug to a different outlet and that didn't help. Also I have not tried a different charger but I do not have a different one so I can't. Please help! Hey everyone. I have recently decided to purchase a high-end gaming laptop. I want to be able to have multiple applications running at any given time, play games on high quality, max graphics, no lag, etc. Essentially, I just want to have the best gaming experience possible. I will be playing games like League of Legends, Star Wars: The Old Republic, Battlefield 3, and other such similar bits of software. I was looking at the ASUS ROG G74sx-A1, in particular. Will this fulfill my criteria? If not, is there another laptop in a similar price-range that will function better? Thanks!
