“ a sad lesson to be careful who you fall in love with for either they will make you or break you. Marisa was just that person. Five years before Andrew's death Marisa filed for a divorce. Andrew contested it for in Andrew's eyes there was only one love for him, Marisa. Marisa fought and fought until she found out through the court proceeding that Andrew amassed savings and properties over a few million dollars. Immediately she stopped the divorce proceeds and gave it another try. Not that she was ever nice - she was still there.

She called me the day after his death and said "your friend is dead" not my husband, not a sniffle or sign of distress - simply cold and cunning
